variable that indicates if the building was secondarily used for other purposes.